

Genesis acquires a three aircraft portfolio from Carlyle Aviation Partners

Global full-lifecycle aircraft lessor acquires three mature in-demand Airbus aircraft, welcoming three new lessees

21st January 2025: Genesis, the Dublin based full lifecycle commercial aircraft lessor, announced today that it has concluded a transaction with trading partner Carlyle Aviation Partners (“Carlyle Aviation”), the commercial aviation investment and servicing arm of Carlyle’s Global Credit platform, for the acquisition of three aircraft; one Airbus A330-200 with Air France, one Airbus A320-200 with Electra Airways, and one A320-200 with Freebird Airlines.

Genesis Chief Executive Officer Karl Griffin stated, “Genesis continues to build our full-service life-cycle aircraft leasing and trading platform & we are delighted to conclude a repeat transaction with our trading partner Carlyle Aviation. We thank them for their continued support and welcome Air France, Electra, and Freebird as Genesis newest customers.”

ENDS

Notes to editor:

Press release issued on behalf of Genesis.

About Genesis

Genesis was established in 2014 by global financial service firm Barings. It is a full-service narrowbody aircraft lessor based in Dublin with a portfolio of 68 owned, managed and committed Airbus and Boeing aircraft. The component trading arm of Genesis is ReGen, a company founded in early 2023 to extend Genesis' service capabilities in the aftermarket parts space.

www.genesis.aero